

DIVORCE DAY IN COURT.

Four Unhappy Couples Tell Their Troubles to Judge Merritt.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES.

CHARGES AND COUNTER CHARGES BY MR. AND MRS. JONES.

Mrs. Adella Y. Harrison is freed from the Matrimonial Bond—A. C. W. Barry, Appointed Receiver for the Ryan & Ream Cattle Company—Disposition of the Boodle in the Bow and Arrow Case Agreed Upon.

Chief Justice Merritt had a busy day in the Third district court yesterday. Besides the usual Saturday motions, four divorce cases came up for hearing and a quantity of miscellaneous business.

His honor announced that the September term of court would open on Monday at 11 o'clock, but that he would, however, open court at 10 o'clock and occupy the hour from 10 to 11 in making settings from the law and motion calendar. Attorneys are requested to be in court at 10 o'clock prompt.

THE JONES DIVORCE CASE.

It Comes Up on Hearing on Motion For Alimony.

In the divorce suit of Alice Jones vs. John E. Jones, the arguments on the motion to show cause for alimony came up. The divorce is sought on the grounds of cruelty and failure to provide. It was alleged that the defendant is possessed of considerable property and is in the receipt of a fair salary. His honor made an order granting the plaintiff $20 per month alimony for the support of herself and infant child, pending the hearing of the suit, and also allowed the plaintiff $50 attorney's fees at $1.25 cents, to be paid within ten days.

The marriage took place in this city on October 6, 1882. Mrs. Jones alleges that for more than four months prior to the filing of the suit her husband neglected to provide for her the necessities of life, though in constant receipt of wages amounting to about $50 per month. It is stated that since their marriage the defendant has treated his wife in a cruel and inhuman manner, and instances of this are given. She says that on October 25, 1892, the same month in which they were married, he struck her with his hand at the home of Mrs. Lulu Brown in this city, seized and threw her with great violence upon a sofa or lounge, wrenching and badly bruising her arms and body, also using abusive and profane language. On October 1, 1893, plaintiff avers, her husband violently struck her on the back, causing her to spit blood; also on January 17, 1894, two days after the birth of her child, while ill in bed, he again struck her and again used foul language; again, on April 12, of this year, he once more abused her, saying, among other things, that he "did not want to see her G—d—face again." On the day following this he moved all the household goods from their home, and left her and her babe without care or shelter, except that afforded by the charity of friends.

In his answer and cross complaint Jones absolutely denies the wife's allegations in regard to the acts of cruelty, etc., and further alleges on information that the plaintiff, on December 4, 1892, and subsequently, committed adultery with one Milo Vincent at her residence in this city; that on November 26, 1892, at Bonneville, Davis county, she was likewise guilty of misconduct with one Dr. McDyer. Defendant further avers that on or about August 16, of the present year, at Provo, plaintiff obtained a license and married one Edward T. Sullivan, "contrary to law," and that they are at present living together as man and wife. Defendant declares (by affidavit) that he is now in straitened circumstances, has not earned on an average more than $12 per month during the past several months, and is wholly unable to pay any alimony whatever pending the trial of the suit. Jones asks for a divorce and the custody of the infant. Upon the affidavit presented, Attorney Dan Harrington, on the part of the defendant, resisted the application for alimony and said this case should never have been brought into court. There were allegations of adultery on the part of the plaintiff and defendant was prepared with evidence to prove that she and Sullivan, the man referred to in the defendant's affidavit, were married by Judge Dusenberry at Provo in August of this year, since which time they had been living together. Harrington cited cases to show that when a plaintiff, as in this case, was greatly in the wrong, not even temporary alimony should be allowed.

MRS. HARRISON

The Doctor Squandered Her Fortune and Deserted Her.

Mrs. Adella Y. Harrison was granted a divorce from her husband, Dr. Francis H. Harrison. The plaintiff was put on the stand and examined by her attorney, Le Grand Young, who stated that she and the defendant intermarried in 1885; that she then added $35,000, and that defendant had no means. He was a physician and surgeon, but neglected his profession and contributed nothing toward the support of either himself or his wife, but wasted the substance of the latter till in June, 1892, they were practically penniless. He then deserted her to appear and evidence corroborating the statements of Mrs. Harrison being given his honor granted the decree as prayed and awarded the plaintiff the custody of the children.

Mrs. Harrison is a daughter of the late President Young, and the defendant is a relative of ex-President Benjamin Harrison.

Another Miffed Couple.

Martin K. Harkness was awarded a decree of divorce from his wife Ella D. Harkness on the grounds of desertion. The marriage took place in Boston, Mass., in February, 1876, and Mrs. Harkness left her husband in 1882 without any apparent reason and is now living with her relatives in Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE HUNTERS SEPARATED.

The findings of the referee approved and adopted.

The findings and conclusions of the referee in the divorce suit of Abraham Hunter vs. Harriet Hunter were yesterday confirmed by Chief Justice Merritt in the Third district court. The findings were that the plaintiff is entitled to a decree of divorce and the sole custody and control of the children; that the defendant is entitled to a conveyance from the plaintiff of about ten acres of real estate in section 24, township 1 south, range 2 west, of Salt Lake meridian, $150 in cash and $50 attorney's fees.

Judge Merritt signed the decree accordingly.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

C. W. Barry Will Take Charge of the Ryan & Ream Cattle Co.

In the matter of the application of the State Bank of Utah and the Bank of Commerce for the appointment of a receiver for the Ryan & Ream Cattle company, his honor, Chief Justice Merritt, issued an order appointing C. W. Barry receiver of the property as follows, viz: 4,187 head of cattle and 50 head of saddle horses. Said cattle to be part of the cattle that were owned by the Ryan & Ream Cattle company on April 15, 1893, and are to be taken from the herds of that company, and in addition to the said 4,187 head of cattle such number of calves as were under one year of age on April 15, 1893, as shall bear the same proportion to the whole number of calves under that age that the number 4,187 bears to the aggregate number of cattle in said herd over the age of one year. The receiver is also to take possession of the proceeds from the sale of any cattle made by John T. Rich as trustee.

The receiver's bond was fixed at $20,000.

Short Orders.

Charles E. Taylor vs. E. E. Ritchie; demurrer to complaint overruled and ten days to answer.

Matthew Gilsborn vs. A. N. Butts; dismissed by consent.

M. J. Gray vs. Henry Dehaller; hearing on motion for receiver set for September 15.

Charles H. Linck vs. Erastus S. Poole; executor's decree entered quieting title for plaintiff.

C. Williamson vs. Utah Central Railway company; leave granted to amend complaint.

Annie E. Potter vs. J. C. Taylor, administrator; decree of foreclosure entered for plaintiff by default.

Lydia Ann Cole nee Middleton vs. Mary E. Gregory; Andrew Calhoun appointed referee to partition property.

William J. Chalmers vs. L. C. Trent; twenty days to answer.

New Citizens.

The following parties were admitted to citizenship: Edward Lakin, of England; George Morgan Howell, of Wales; Joseph Roe, of Ireland; Ole P. Larsen, of Denmark; John P. Jensen, of Denmark; Joseph Solis, of England; Ferdinand Jepson, of Denmark; George Wilkes, of England; William Marsh, of England; Andrew Shrell, of England; Robert H. Haddock, of Wales; Robert Williams, of Wales; James J. Phillips, of Wales; John Rees Davis, of Wales; Lorus Rasmussen, of Denmark; William Noyce, of England; Theodore Gunderson, of Norway; Adolph Jansen, of Sweden; Gustavus Adolphus Kindblom, of Sweden; Joseph Bohmer, of Germany; Adolph Christian Nordberg, of Sweden; Charles J. W. Carson, of Sweden; Fara G. Jarna, of England; Henry Solis, of England; Carl Zehuter, of Germany; Achill W. Brand, of Germany, and John Brimley, of England.

Transcripts on Appeal.

Transcripts on appeal were yesterday filed in the Third district court in the cases of Bountiful City vs. Alfred Baulton, appellant from Lewis M. Grant; J. P. Bountiful and Bountiful City vs. Daniel Moss, appellant also from Justice Grant's court at Bountiful.

Judgments Entered.

George A. Lowe vs. L. D. Kinney et al. for the plaintiff for $295.67, abstract from United States Commissioner Greenman.

Ellen B. Ferguson vs. Mrs. B. Goodwin for the plaintiff for $325, abstract from Justice Smith.

EAST ARGENT MINE.

Suit By Mr. Roys Against John F. Connor to Gain Possession.

Fernando Roys, Julius Thompson and Frank W. Ingersoll has entered suit in the Third district court against John F. Connor, alleging that on September 1 the defendant wrongfully and with force and arms took possession of the East Argent mining claim, in Rush Valley, mining district in Tooele county, and excavated and removed therefrom.

Wherefore plaintiffs pray that the defendant be restrained by injunction of the court from working said mine or interfering with plaintiff's possession thereof.

On a Promissory Note.

J. L. Griffith is suing John G. Truman in the Third district court to recover $2,000 on a promissory note secured by a mortgage.

The Alleged Junk Thieves.

Walter Birmingham, the boy who was arrested on Wednesday for stealing brasses and irons from an engine and boiler belonging to Patrick Ryan at Mill Creek, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Greenman yesterday, after the hearing fixed for next Saturday to give the officers time to bring up some other boys who are supposed to be implicated in the theft.

THE BOW AND ARROW CASH.

Claimants Come to an Understanding as to Its Disposal.

Final disposition of the cash taken from Lafayette, Pury, Steele, Wells and Quinlan, the bow and arrow people, when they were arrested by Chief Pratt, has been made by mutual agreement of the several claimants. Jones and Schroeder, who, on behalf of the creditors of M. P. Wells attached the funds in the hands of Chief of Police Pratt, compromised their claim for $300 and Ritchie & Ritchie, who had several claims for attorney's fees, etc., settled for $250, and the balance of the cash amounting to $1,457, was turned over to Attorney J. A. Riley for distribution pro rata among the dupes who contributed it.

The checks amounting to $3,000 and all the jewelry in the hands of the chief, except that belonging to Quinlan, was also turned over to Attorney Riley.

Lafayette has abandoned the idea of appealing from the ruling of Justice Harvey in the matter of the judgment against him held by P. J. Day, and the palette pin and diamond pin held by the sheriff were turned over to Mr. Daly. The gold watch and chain, which was also attached by Day, was later allowed to be turned over to Lafayette.

Attachment Raised.

The attachment levied by the sheriff on the fifteen tons of ore shipped from the East Argent mine, at Stockton, by J. F. Connor and attached in the Union Pacific yards, in this city, by Fernando Roys, was released yesterday on the defendants' bond of $1,000.

We're out of Bee Hive Soap again. This is Barnes-Hardy Co. Send us fifty—well, you can make it a hundred boxes if you like. And say, is that drawing of yours at the Fair on Friday, Oct. 5? All right. Your tickets are going like wildfire.

The Fencing Club.

The Salt Lake Fencing club has organized for the season, with the following officers: Walter L. Price, president; C. R. Snelgrove, vice-president; Dr. S. Gleason, secretary; J. B. Gardner, treasurer; Prof. Andre, maître d'armes. Meetings will be held every Monday evening at 27 South West Temple, and all interested in promoting the science of sword play, both ladies and gentlemen, are invited to attend. It is hoped sufficient interest will be shown to warrant the club in securing larger quarters and arranging for a series of contests. The Ladies Fencing club will meet at the club room Monday evenings as above.

Young Ladies' Aid Society.

Following is the report of the Young Ladies' Aid society for August: Disbursements—Rent, $8.25; merchandise, $90.25; coal, $7.30; cash, $1. Total, $156.85. Number of families assisted, 71.

FANNIE HANAUER, President.

Hello, Grant Soap Co.! Well! Send Clark, Eldridge & Co. at once, one hundred boxes of Bee Hive Soap. Is that all? Well, we're nearly out of that Silver Dust Washing Powder. You might as well duplicate our last order on that.

The Brigham Young College

The Brigham Young college will open on Monday, the 17th of September. The following courses are offered:

1. Course in general science, four years.
2. Course in letters, four years.
3. College preparatory course, three years.
4. Normal course, three years.
5. Business course, three years.
6. Advanced normal course, one year.

The first two of these courses lead to degrees; the others, to certificates of graduation. The college preparatory, the normal and the business course are open to all qualified students over 15 years of age. Graduates of these courses are admitted without examination to the courses in general science and letters; graduates of the normal course are also admitted without examination to the advanced normal course.

In addition to these courses there is offered a special M. A. course, which extends through twenty weeks, beginning November 5 and ending April 3. A preparatory school is also conducted under the direction of the college faculty. The object of this school is to prepare students to enter the college preparatory, the normal and the business course, and to provide training for the normal students.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

In addition to the work in the preparatory school and the M. A. course, the college offers:

- Eight courses in biological science, including botany, physiology and zoology; six business courses, including bookkeeping, photography, typewriting, commercial arithmetic and commercial law; five courses in chemistry, extending through three years; six courses in the science and art of teaching, including kindergarten; nine courses in English language and literature; three years each in Latin, French and German; three courses in geology and mineralogy; fourteen courses in history and political science; seventeen courses in mathematics and astronomy; three courses in physics, extending through three years; eight courses in theology and philosophy; and courses in drawing, elocution, vocal and instrumental music and physical culture.

FACILITIES.

A number of changes have recently been made, which will greatly add to the facilities of the institution for advanced collegiate work. The preparatory school has been removed from the laboratory building to rooms secured in the stake tabernacle, and the large room which has heretofore been used for it has been converted into a physical and biological laboratory. The chemical and physical and biological laboratories are furnished with cases, desks and necessary apparatus for practical experimental work in the natural and physical sciences. A large room in the main building has also been fitted up for a museum, and the extensive collections of minerals, geological specimens, smelting products, woods, shells and curios, which are being thoroughly classified, are of easy access. For practical work in surveying and astronomy, there is an engineer's transit, with solar attachment and all accessories. There has also been provided kindergarten and material for practical work in the department of pedagogy.

The library has been removed to one of the largest and most pleasant rooms in the main building. This room, which has been furnished with new shelving, reading slopes for current papers and magazines, and with reading tables, will accommodate one hundred students. It is well lighted and ventilated, and is provided with steam heat and electric lights; it will be open to the public as a reading room. There are in the library upwards of 1,500 volumes, including encyclopedias, scientific, historical, general and statistical works, and additions will be made during the year to meet the requirements of students in the different courses. Prof. Miller's valuable collection on history and political science will be placed in the library, and the students will also have access to the president's private library of about 400 volume, mostly on mathematics, philosophy and general science.

LOCATION.
The college is situated in one of the most desirable parts of Logan city, at the corner of First and College streets, on the north fork of Logan river. Being only one block from Main street, it is in a central yet quiet location, within easy reach from all parts of the city.

EXPENSES.
Tuition is free to students with scholarships and to students in the M. A. course. To all others the tuition in the college preparatory, normal and business courses, and in the courses in general science and letters, is $20. The annual tuition fee in the preparatory school is $8.

Good rooms and board can be obtained in private families at from $2.50 to $3 per week. By renting rooms and boarding themselves students can reduce their expenses to from $1.50 to $2 per week for board and room. Rooms can be rented at from 25 to 50 cents per week. A number of rooms in the college dormitory are rented at these rates.

IN IDAHO.

The Democrats Are Vying a Vigorous Campaign.

Pocatello, Ida., Sept. 8.—Mr. Samuel H. Hayes, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, was here again yesterday. In reviewing the chances for Democratic success in Idaho, Mr. Hayes seemed to be very hopeful of carrying the state at the coming election. The Democratic organization seems to be very complete and the greatest harmony seems to prevail all over the state. Mr. Hayes thinks the central portion of the state is already showing decided Democratic tendencies, and that Elmore, Ada, Canon and Boise counties will undoubtedly go Democratic by nice pluralities. The Ada county nominees are already in the field and they have begun a vigorous campaign. They are all good, honorable men and no stronger ticket could have been named.

One of the best indications of certain success is the interest being taken in the campaign work. Every good Democrat who is capable of lending a helping hand, is to use Mr. Hayes' expression, "sawing wood" for the party. Away up in the north, Hon. John M. Burk is hustling among the good old Democrats and holding them in line with the skill of a great Democratic general in election time. Mr. Burk will be placed upon the legislative ticket and his great popularity will carry Kootenai county solidly for Democrats.

Among the Republicans, there seems to be a great deal of dissension. "Old Mac" seems to be too big a dose for even an honest Republican to gulp down a second time. Many of them have a long list of pet-names for their nominees and they vow that they will never vote for such a corrupt piece of human flesh. They say that he received his nomination at the hands of a set of disreputables and that Mc is as bad as the gang that nominated him.

Pocatello seems to be reviving daily from the dull times of a few weeks ago. Ex-Mayor Stein has sold several pieces of city property within the past week. Yesterday he made a cash sale of lots 11 and 12, block 349. I understand that the consideration was $750.

We had another heavy rain here last night. There seems to be an unusual amount of rain falling for this time of the year.

Who is this? The Grant Soap Co. Well, fill this little order for Z. C. Mc I right away. Customers can't wait. Five away. One hundred boxes Bee Hive Soap, 80¢; 50 boxes Bee Hive, 100¢; 25 boxes Bath and Toilet, 10¢; 10 boxes of Utah Toilet, 50¢; 50 boxes Grant Toilet Box No. 1, Silver Dust Washing Powder 15¢; No. 3 Silver Dust Washing Powder, That all? That's all today—but this won't last long—We can't keep enough of that Bee-Hive Soap on hand—I never saw anything like the demand.
